The image shows a modern interior space, likely a wine and art gallery. The ceiling is made of exposed wooden beams, creating a warm, rustic atmosphere. The walls are a neutral, light green color. In the foreground, there are several large, woven baskets filled with dried floral arrangements. These include tall stalks of dried wheat or grain, clusters of small white flowers, and vibrant red and yellow dried flowers. In the background, a small round table with four white chairs is visible. The overall aesthetic is contemporary and natural.

1993-2023

Il Borro – An enduring act of faith

Thirty years are a good time to look back and draw the new strength to move forward. As in a scrapbook of memories, the present exhibition traces through the imaginative language of ancient engravings the path that led Ferruccio Ferragamo to shift his focus from Florence to the Valdarno countryside, finding in the medieval village of Il Borro not only a buen retiro for himself and his family but an ideal place for a new idea of enterprise. Ferruccio Ferragamo bought the Estate in 1993, bringing it back to life, enhancing its history, its memories and excellence. Today Il Borro is a place where tradition and innovation live together in an organic farm and winery, dedicated to hospitality and farm-to-table dining, but always with a look towards art and collecting. As we ideally turn the pages of this story made of images, we will discover a history of passion and authenticity.

La Galleria Vino e Arte presenta:

Marc Chagall (1887-1985)

Giovanni Fattori (1825-1908)

James Jacques Tissot (1836-1902)

Andy Warhol (1928-1987)

Pablo Picasso (1881-1973)
